We Are The World Being Destroyed By Shthd A*holes

a comedy piece idea by Jonathan D Steinhoff ©12.14.19

In a video documenting the taping of a new celebrity-only recording ala “We Are The World”, we see a song being sung by actors representing celebrities known to be passionate about climate change, and ipso facto highly anti-Republican, such as Greta Thunberg, Bruce Springstein, David Crosby, the ghosts of George Harrison and John Lennon, Michael Jackson, Mick Jagger, Bob Dylan, etc. The humor is contained in the honest directness of the lyrics, which occasionally or more than occasionally therefore need to be bleeped, which are perfectly timed in such a way as to contribute to the music track.